Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on July 13, 1994.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, July 13, 1994.

If you are ever in the area, stop in and see us! Of course, it's best to call first.

ELEPHANT SYMBOL TETRADRACHMS and DRACHMS
This is a small write-up about the next three lots - The Tetradrachms are quite scarce and the Drachma of this issue is very rare.
It was long believed that the Athenian "New Style" silver issue signed Antiochus and bearing the Seleucid elephants as its symbol must date from the year 176 BC, when the future Antiochus IV was released from Rome in exchange for a younger hostage. Antiochus planned a leisurely return to Syria and stopped off in Athens to enjoy the cultural ambience and the flattering attentions paid him as brother of the Syrian king. News of his brother's assassination suddenly propelled him homeward, but not, according to the theory, before he was enrolled as an honorary mint magistrate at Athens.
Margaret Thompson's magisterial study of the "New Style" coinage yielded a date of 163/2 for this issue, on which still allowed for interpretation of the types as a tribute to the just-deceased Antiochus IV. However Mørkholm's revised dating of the "New Style" coinage has won general acceptance. It places the issue of Antiochus with the elephant symbol in 131/0 BC. This was the year in which another Seleucid king, Antiochus VII, set forth on an ill-fated eastern campaign, in a quest to recover lost territories from the Parthians. The use of the Seleucid elephant as a symbol was thus particularly relevant to current events. More generally, it drew attention to the close cultural ties between Athens and the Seleucid dynasty, and thus enhanced the prestige of a magistrate who bore the characteristic name of the Syrian royal house.

340. 499-494 BC, Billon Stater, 14.20g; BMC-151.6. Gorgon facing with protruding tongue/Incuse. A very rare type. VF+ 3500
341. 499-494 BC, Silver or Billon Stater, 14.02; Babelon, Traité I 548, pl XIV, 3. Obv-Facing lion's head, composed of two lion foreparts (head and forelegs) confronted/Small incuse square. A highly unusual type - when first viewed, it looks like a lion's scalpe from above - when looking again it is two facing lions in profile. Fine 1500
- The extremely rare silver staters of Lesbos include four obverse types--a roaring lion's head right, a facing lion's head (the present type), a gorgoneion, and confronted calves' heads. All share a thick fabric and characteristic small square incuse. The consistency of incuse and fabric points to a series struck over a short period of time. The weights are erratic, ranging from 15.74 grams to 10.46 grams or even less. It looks as though each issue of the series was struck on a different, and declining, weight standard: 15.74 grams for the profile lion's head, 14.85-14.00 grams for the facing lion's head, c. 14-13 grams for the gorgoneion issue, and 13.70 to ca. 10 grams for the calves' heads issue. The silver alloy seems to have suffered similar rapid debasement. All these factors suggest that the Lesbian silver staters were produced at a time of crisis, presumably the revolt of the Ionian cities against Persia, 499-494 BC.
- This dating is supported by the absence of Lesbian silver from early archaic hoards; the Asyut hoard, buried about 475 BC, contains the first example, a fresh fraction belonging to the confronted calves' head series (Asyut 614). Price and Waggoner postulated an interruption of coinage in the difficult period after the failure of the revolt and suggested that the most debased silver of the calves' heads variety could represent "a feeble burst of coinage" upon liberation from the Persian yoke.
342. Time of the Ionian Revolt, 499-494 BC, Silver 1/8 Stater, 2.24g. Obv-Facing lion's head/Square incuse. Apparently unpublished, but cf. Babelon, Traité I 550, a hemistater of the facing lion's head series. VF+ 700
- Lots 343-346 LESBOS, Time of Ionian Revolt, 499-494 BC
- Obv-Lion's head right, roaring, with dotted truncation/Square incuse, perhaps quadripartite but partially filled. Unpublished, but cf. Bodensedt 12-14, electrum hectae with lion's head of comparable style.
- Although this particular variety appears unpublished, there is evidence that the Mytilene mint made an effort to coordinate the types of its coinage in electrum and silver. The familiar confronted boars' heads of so many Lesbian silver fractions occur on the electrum issue of Phocaea, Mytilene's partner in coinage, for the year 488 BC (Bodensedt 45). The gorgoneion of Lesbian billon staters struck during the Ionian Revolt (Traité I 551-552) reappears on Mytilene's electrum coinage for 485 BC (Bodensedt 19). A distinctive facing head inspired by a statue type can be found both on the Lesbian electrum issues for 444 and 443 BC (Bodensedt 44-45) and on a rare silver fraction (Hirsch XIII, Rhousopoulos 3607).
- It thus seems likely that the profile lion's head of this silver fraction intentionally mirrors the lion's head of the electrum, which was employed throughout the Ionian Revolt on issues dated to the years 499, 497, and 495

BC (Bodenstedt 12-14). The type was revived in 475 and 473 BC (Bodenstedt 24-25); however it seems more likely that the proper context for our silver pieces is the Ionian Revolt. This lion's head is stylistically distinct from the animal which appears on the earliest billon staters of the revolt, and indeed it cannot be associated with any of the stater issues. Because the weight standard for the billon was in constant flux during this period, it is impossible to be certain about the denomination of this small piece. The example of the lot above suggests that the stater was divided into eighths, and the present coin would represent an eighth of a stater weighing 11.84 grams, a theoretical weight consistent with the weights of confronted calves' head staters falling near the very end of the revolt.

 347. Uncertain mint in western Asia Minor, ca. 540-500 BC, Silver Stater, 9.95g. Obv-Bull forepart running right/Square incuse divided horizontally into two elongated rectangles. Unpublished. This coin was according to reports found many years ago with coins of Croesus. Totally unknown; this coin working from the incuse could most likely be Ionian. Abt. EF 8500

Although the weight standard is characteristic of the Thracio-Macedonian region, style, fabric, and findspot all point to an origin in Asia Minor, probably Lydia or Ionia. The weight of 9.95 grams is equivalent to 1/50th of the light Babylonian mina, while the weight adopted by Croesus for his silver staters was equivalent to 1/45th of the light Babylonian mina. Apparently we are dealing with an experimental coinage which failed to establish itself. It was clearly intended to circulate alongside the Croesid coinage and to provide greater flexibility in exchange - perhaps specifically to facilitate exchange with one or another of the electrum coinages which were still being struck on various weight standards down to the turn of the fifth century BC.

The distinctive style of the incuse recalls a short series of electrum staters probably struck in the same general region of Asia Minor around 500 BC. Known varieties include:

- Bull kneeling left, head reverted, palmette above - Rosen 148
 Cow half-kneeling r., head reverted, nuzzling suckling calf, palmette above - Babelon, Traité I 77, pl iii, 1
 Lion forepart rampant r., with dotted truncation - Leu 57, lot 105
 Lactating lioness crouching l., head facing - NFA XVIII, lot 95

Possibly also belonging to the same series, but with elaboration of the incuse type, is:

Winged lion forepart l., Leu 54, lot 129

Artistically, these electrum staters seem much more sophisticated and polished than the uncertain silver stater under discussion, and I would be hesitant to attribute them to the same mint.

EGYPT

The following 132 lots are a very interesting collection of Ptolemaic silver which include many Jewish mints and an exceptionally rare dodecadrachm of Berenike.

The reason that some of our Ptolemaic coins are out of order is because we had Cathy Lorber check the attributions after the pictures were set and numbered. Since she has the most up-to-date information on Ptolemaic coins we changed the attributions to hers but did not re-order the lots.

DODECADRACHM OF BERENICE II OF EGYPT
Berenice II of Egypt was a highly romantic figure. Her father Magas, the stepson of Ptolemy I, had been appointed to pacify the fractious province of the Cyrenaica but had eventually evolved it into an independent principality. Upon his death, around 250 BC, Berenice inherited his kingdom. Although she had been betrothed in infancy to the future Ptolemy III, her mother now forced her into a marriage with a Macedonian princeling, Demetrius the Fair. The queen-mother took Demetrius as her lover, but the spirited young queen had him assassinated in her mother's bed chamber, thus clearing the way for her marriage to Ptolemy and for the reunion of the Cyrenaica with Egypt.
As Queen of Egypt, Berenice II was the subject of a truly spectacular coinage. She was honored on a series of gold octodrachms, silver decadrachms, and silver tetradrachms paralleling those in the name of her predecessor Arsinoe Philadelphos. But utterly without precedent is a series of graded denominations in gold and silver - gold decadrachms, pentadrachms, two and a half drachm pieces, drachms, hemidrachms, and quarter drachms, and silver dodecadrachms, pentadrachms, and two and a half drachm pieces - all struck on the Attic weight standard. The general aspect of this coinage is medallion, and the large range of denominations certainly suggests that these were presentation pieces, distributed to recipients of varying rank. But the use of the Attic weight standard is perplexing. Ptolemy I had deliberately abandoned this standard before 310 BC in order to create a closed economy within Egypt. Why was it now revived, after a lapse of more than half a century? The best solution to the puzzle may be to attribute this exceptional coinage to Cyrene, where the Attic standard had in fact survived under Magas. Attribution to a provincial mint would also go far to explain the obvious contrasts in style and fabric between the Attic weight coinage and the regular series attributable to Alexandria. An obvious occasion for a showy medallion issue, or series of issues, would be Berenice's accession as Queen of Egypt and the resulting reunion of the two kingdoms. However many of these medallions share their control marks with bronze issues which Price has dated to the latter years of the reign, after 230 BC. If Berenice's medallion coinage is contemporary with these bronzes, it probably commemorates the twentieth anniversary of these happy events.
The dodecadrachm of Berenice II is the largest silver denomination ever struck in the Greek world. Only one specimen was recorded by Svoronos, and in an extremely poor state of preservation. Twenty-one examples are now known, but the dodecadrachm of Berenice remains one of the rarest, most beautiful, and historically significant of all Greek coins.

WHY NO AMERICAN EXPRESS

Many of you must have noticed that we no longer take American Express. I am certain that some of you think that it is because American Express takes too high of a percentage from the dealer. This is true but it's not the reason we don't take American Express. In 1993 a man purchased $6,500 of gold bullion coins with his own American Express card which we called in and had approved by American Express. As it turned out, the man had obtained the American Express card by giving American Express false information about himself. It seems ours was far from the only purchase this individual made and American Express took a large loss. American Express admits that the loss they took was all their fault but decided to cancel our right to accept the card because our loss/sales ratio was too high even though this is the only loss American Express had ever sustained with our firm. We know this seems unbelievable and even though we explained this to several SMART layers of American Express management, they agreed it seemed wrong but no one cared to do anything. We are sorry if it created any inconvenience but the problem lies entirely with American Express.

PNG ESSAY CONTEST

for the eighth year Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. is chairman of the PNG Essay Contest for young numismatists. Essays can be hand-written or typed, never been published anywhere else and the participants must be 18 years of age or younger. The prize is two trips to ANA Summer Seminar in Colorado Springs with airfare paid for by the Professional Numismatist Guild. Deadline for entries is June 1, 1994. Mail entries to Harlan J. Berk, Ltd., 31 N. Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60602

A WORD ABOUT OUR ESTIMATES

On occasion people have mentioned that some of our estimates seem high. An equal number of people have told me our estimates seem correct and others think they are low. The meaning of our estimates is unlike any others in the numismatic trade anywhere in the world. Our estimates are the most we will accept for a coin. A gentleman recently bid substantially over estimate on a five-figure coin and he was only charged estimate. Some auctions will estimate a $5,000 coin at $2,000, so naive folks will be drawn in to snap up the bargains which of course never materialize because everyone knows the estimate was too low in the first place and was only a ploy to trick people into coming to the sale. Our estimate is the most we will accept for a coin, as I have said, consistently 1/3 of the coins in our sale sell for estimate which we expect since our estimates are our opinion of the day's market. Remember also that we do not charge the 10 - 15 % buyer's fee that all other auction houses charge. If you get the coin, what you bid is what you're billed for plus postage.

The next three lots consist of rare pottery from Ischia, an island just north of the bay of Naples, and is the earliest and most distant of the Greek colonies known in Italy. The pottery found in Ischia was highly influenced by late eighth and seventh century Protocorinthian. Pottery of Ischia can often be distinguished by their coarser clay which is sometimes disguised by a yellow slip, though not always clear.

959. Ischia Trefoil Oinochoe; 7th Century BC. Clay pale buff. Slender ovoid body contracting to a low base, slightly convex neck, trefoil mouth, strap handle. Decoration in lustrous brown glaze: on the shoulder rays pointing down, and on the lower part of the body, large rays pointing up. The rest of the piece is finished up with horizontal and vertical lines. Lip has been restored. 11 1/8" High . 2000
960. Ischia Trefoil Oinochoe; 7th Century BC. Clay pale buff. Large ovoid body contracting to a low base, convex neck, trefoil mouth, strap handle. Decoration in reddish-brown glaze: on the shoulder rays pointing down, and on the lower part of the body, rays pointing up. Other added painted areas included horizontal lines with a wavy line moving around the center of the body. Restored from fragments. 10 3/4" High . 2000
961. Ischia Pyxis; 7th Century BC. Clay pale buff. Large ovoid body contracting to low base, four extended handles, extended rim. Decoration in brown geometric designs on upper half, while reddish-brown rays point up near the foot. Wide brown horizontal lines cover center of piece. Restored from fragments. 10" High, 13 1/2" Wide . 2500
962. Etruscan Bucchero Kylix; 6th Century BC. Black volcanic clay. Piece has nice rich glaze. Rim has some chipping. 2 7/16" High, 6 1/4" Wide . 800

965. Etruscan Bucchero Kantharos; 6th Century BC. Black volcanic clay. Handle rejoined. 4 13/16" High, 6 5/8" Wide . 700
966. Etruscan Bucchero Cup; 6th Century BC. Black volcanic clay. Cup has a fine glaze. 3 1/4" High, 5 1/4" Wide . 500
967. Etruscan Bucchero Cup; 6th Century BC. Black volcanic clay. Cup has a small chip in foot. 3 1/8" High, 5 5/8" Wide . 500
968. Etruscan Bucchero Cup; 6th Century BC. Black volcanic clay. 3 3/4" High, 5 3/4" Wide . 500
969. Greek Lucanian Bell Krater; 4th Century BC. Attributed by Professor A.D. Trendall to the Amykos Painter, and feels it is an excellent example of his developed style. In LCS by Trendall, he states, "The Amykos Painter, who takes his name from the representation of the punishment of Amykos on the shoulder of a hydria in the Cabinet des Medailles is one of the most prolific artists and a figure of considerable importance in the early history of Early South Italian vase-painting" (LCS Page 29). During the Amykos Painter's matured phase, he enjoyed painting vases of larger dimensions with three to four figures of fairly monumental scale, this piece being of no exception.
- The krater renders four wonderfully painted figures, two nude male athletes conversing with two females dressed in long graceful chitons. On the obverse, three draped youths, stand two facing left and the third facing right. The scenes are enclosed by a laurel wreath running under the upper lip and a meander pattern running near the foot. The krater is in remarkable shape other than a small stable hole in the foot. 15" High, 15 3/4" Diameter . 32500
970. Greek Apulian Bell Krater; 4th Century BC. Attributed by Professor A.D. Trendall to The Crossed Diptych Group, RVAP I Page 362. Large stemmed bell krater with a male and female facing. The female sits upon a pile of applied off-white rocks. In her right hand she holds a flaming torch and in her left a thrysos staff. The male stands holding a phiale in his left hand a thrysos in his right. On the reverse, two draped males holding staffs stand conversing. Other details on the vase include large palmettes under each handle, a laurel wreath pattern running the upper rim, and a meander pattern finishing off the entire bottom of the scene. The foot of the vase has been restored. 15" High, 15 1/4" Diameter . 7500
971. Greek Apulian Trefoil Oinochoe; 4th Century BC. Attributed by Professor A.D. Trendall to The Painter of Bari, RVAP I Page 376. Scene renders a male and female facing each other. The male stands with his left foot across his right, as he leans on a staff. In his left hand he holds a phiale with a fillet hanging directly below it. In his right he holds a crown with a fillet. In the field, in the upper left corner a fillet hangs alone. The female sits upon a pile of rocks wearing a long chiton. While her left hands rests upon the pile of rocks, her left bears a tall sashed branch. The entire scene is enclosed by rosettes, registers of rays pointing up, and a meander pattern. No restoration; minor chipping on lip. 10" High . 7500
972. Greek Apulian Glauk; 4th Century BC. Glauk renders owls between olive branches on either side. Vertical side handle has been restored. 2 7/8" High, 6 9/16" Wide . 1200
973. Greek Apulian Kantharos; 4th Century BC. An elegant shaped kantharos with a facing bust on one side and a profiled bust on the other. Both busts are well drawn in reserve style with some faint applied white for detail. Both of the handles have been rejoined. 7" High, 6" Wide . 1800
974. Greek Gnathian Stemless Kylix; 4th Century BC. A high quality piece with rich reddish-brown and white applied paint. The main side of the cup has four registers of design from top to bottom: egg-and-dot in white, reddish-brown and white horizontal lines, white line of dots, & two lines of hanging grapes in white with a line of reddish-brown separating the two. The opposite side has an egg-and-dot pattern, a rosette, and geometric designs all in applied white. 2 5/8" High, 5 3/8" Wide . 800
975. Greek Gnathian Kylix; 330 BC. Piece covered with fine black glaze throughout. In the tondo is an applied off-white kantharos with an elaborate applied off-white laurel wreath enclosing it. Finally, under the rim on either side of the kylix more wreaths are painted in faint applied white. Gnathian pottery of this style are extremely rare. 1 3/4" High, 9" Wide . 2500
976. Pair of Greek Canosan Plastic Heads; Late 4th Century BC. A pair of molded female heads in trefoiled lipped form. Main portion of each piece is in a light buff with traces of white paint. The necks, lips, & handles are all painted in light pink, which was a standard color used in Canosa. Both pieces in fantastic shape, other than the handle on the small vase which has been rejoined in two places. 9 3/4" High & 9 1/4" High . 4000
977. Greek South Italian Plastic Vase; 4th Century BC. Buff clay. Hour-glass shaped vessel rendering a female head. At the top of the vessel is a small pierced cuplet of five holes. At the nape, is a medium size hole, from where liquids tumbling from the cuplet could flow. Most likely used to drain the milk for cheeses. 4 3/4" High . 500
978. Colima Mexican Stylized Shaman Heads; 200 BC. - 100 AD. Two warrior heads side by side in a reddish-brown slip. 3 1/2" High, 7 1/4" Wide . 1400
979. Moche Peru Vessel; 200-500 AD. Vessel renders a man lying backwards stomach down on a llama. Areas of red and yellow slip color the piece giving it an elaborate look. 9" High, 8 1/2" Long . 2200

980. Vera Cruz Head; 500-700 AD. Strong detailed head with very little wear. Comes mounted on lucite stand. 9" High 800
981. Maya Campeche Hero Twins; Late Classic Period, 500-800 AD. Molded vessel rendering Hero Twins on either side. The legend of the Hero Twins is a great Underworld epic, which tells the story of two twins who are summoned to the underworld, where they are tortured and murdered. Later after various events they are reborn with great powers, which they eventually use to beat the underworld and ascend to the heavens. The Twins are the patrons of scribes, artists, musicians, & dancers. Some of the original blue, reddish-brown, & white paint still exists. Rejoined from fragments. 4 7/8" High, 4 11/16" Diameter 1500
982. Chimo Peru Vessel; 1200-1400 AD. Vessel with elaborate central figure flanked by two stylized animals. Strap handle renders a human figure laying out-stretched. Geometric designs are displayed on the foot. No restoration other than the animal's head on the left has been rejoined. 7 5/8" High 1200

ROMAN GLASS

983. Pillar-Moulded Bowl; 1st Century AD. Light blue-green of medium thickness, semi-transparent. Shallow curved form with short upright rim; round outside with sixteen high ribs with flattened upper ends, extending just below edge of base. 2 1/8" High, 4 13/16" Diameter 1000
984. Square Storage Bottle; 1st-2nd Century AD. Clear green thick glass with symmetrical square-sectioned body. Thick angular handle linking top of neck and body. This type was commonly used for storage and packing in the early Roman empire. The heavy walls provided durability, while the square shape made for easier shipping. 5 1/2" High 1500

PAUL RABIN

On June 27th, 1994 the distinguished numismatist Paul Rabin will join the staff of Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. in Chicago on a permanent basis. Most recently Paul has worked at Frank Sternberg AG, Zürich/Switzerland and before that at Numismatic Fine Arts. We are excited about this new and important addition to our staff.

CATHY LORBER

We would like to thank Cathy Lorber, formerly of Numismatic Fine Arts, for proof-reading our catalogue and writing some remarkably good essays on some of our lots which can be easily distinguished from our usual short-hand versions. We hope in the future you will be seeing more of Cathy's work in our catalogues.

PROF. DAVID MACDONALD

It only seems right to acknowledge the continuing decade-long collaboration we have with Prof. David MacDonald of Illinois State University, who has recently published his book on Aphrodisias in London.

OUR OTHER STAFF

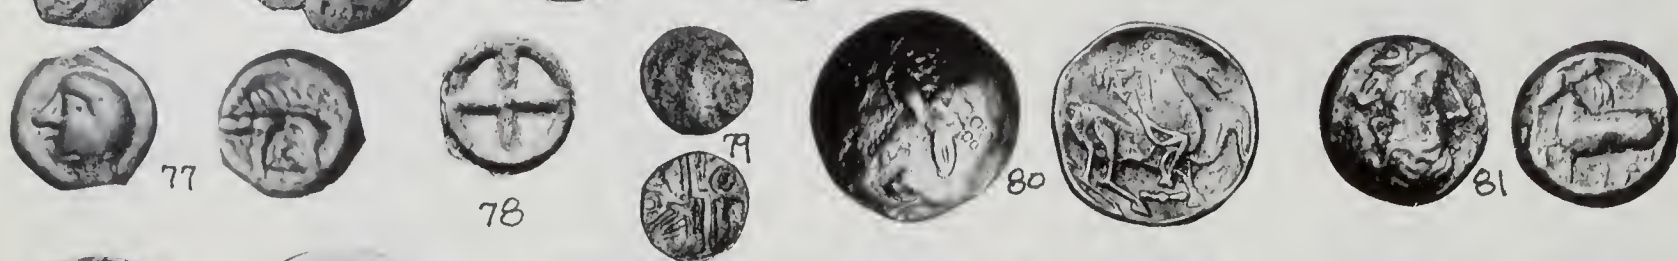

Harlan Berk - Chief Numismatist; Lisa Legler - Classical Numismatist; Aaron Berk - Antiquities; Ellen Guenther - Type-setting and Customer Service; Marti Searing - Photographer; Mark Wieclaw - Book Department.; Robert J. Greenstein - Autographs; Simon Bendall - European Agent.

AUTOGRAPHS

- 1035 JOHN QUINCY ADAMS; "Oration on the Life and Character of Gilbert Motier de Lafayette delivered at the request of both Houses of the Congress of the United States on December 31, 1834." The book is in poor condition, but all there. There is a sheet that was glued into the book saying in Adams own hand "Elias H. Kane from John Quincy Adams". This insert sheet has become detached from the book, but the signature is clear 500
- 1036 JIMMY CARTER; The 1987 book "Everything to Gain; Making the Most of the Rest of Your Life" written by Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter, signed inside "J. Carter" and underneath "Rosalynn Carter". A notation by the original owner states that it was signed in person at a Chicago area store 125
- 1037 JIMMY CARTER; Inaugural cover signed by Jimmy Carter and Rosalynn Carter. These come with another inaugural cover signed by Billy Carter and a FDC of the Peace Corp stamp signed by Carter's mother Lillian 200
- 1038 CALVIN COOLIDGE; An envelope addressed to Coolidge in his own hand. It also has a stamp on it showing that it was to be used as a return envelope 200
- 1039 CALVIN COOLIDGE; 9" x 11" frame with matted Official White House envelope and a White House card signed boldly "Calvin Coolidge" 200
- 1040 DWIGHT EISENHOWER; Typed note on a 4"x5" piece of DDEs 5 star stationery stating "I am happy to fulfill your request for my personal signature. Thank you for writing. Sincerely," and signed by Dwight Eisenhower 350
- 1041 DWIGHT EISENHOWER; A cover bearing the 2c Nations United for Victory stamp and a 3c Win the War stamp featuring a cachet of IKE stating "Welcome Home" to the victorious Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces. Signed at the top left by Eisenhower 350
- 1042 DWIGHT EISENHOWER; TLS on White House stationery also monogrammed DDE. It is a note to Robert Cutler extending birthday greetings and is signed with lkes initials "D.E." 400
- 1043 MILLARD FILLMORE; Presidential appointment that is in poor condition. There are creases and tears, and there is a heavy crease under his signature. The signature is bold 450
- 1044 GERALD R. FORD; An autographed copy of the book entitled "A Vision for America", an address given by Ford to the Republican National Convention in Detroit on July 14, 1980. This First Edition is #257 of 500 250
- 1045 GERALD FORD; An 8"x11" frame featuring a cut signature of Ford matted with an engraving of him. It is signed Jerry Ford 125
- 1046 GERALD FORD; 10"x16" framed piece with a small piece of paper signed by Gerald R. Ford, matted along with an 8/9/74 Inaugural cover unsigned, and a signed inaugural cover of Nelson Rockefeller dated 12/19/74 250
- 1047 WARREN G. HARDING; TLS on his own Marion, Ohio stationery to Mr. S. Stanwood Menken dated February 26, 1921. Harding thanks Menken for advising him of a dinner in honor of Senator G. Chamberlain. He continues on to praise Mr. Chamberlain. It is signed Warren G. Harding 600
- 1048 HERBERT HOOVER; A card signed boldly by Herbert Hoover 150
- 1049 HERBERT HOOVER; TLS on The Secretary of Commerce stationery to Mr. John A. Stewart of New York City dated November 22, 1927. In it Hoover states that he will be in New York that Saturday, but that he would be returning that evening to Washington, so he would be unable to see Stewart. Signed "Herbert Hoover" 350
- 1050 HERBERT HOOVER; TLS on his personal stationery to Mr. Barnard Morrison of Boston, dated August 29, 1928. In it, Hoover thanks Morrison for his note approving of his acceptance speech. Signed by Hoover 350
- 1051 THOMAS JEFFERSON; Ship Document for the Isabella of New York dated July 22, 1807. This document is newly framed in a 19"x25" wood frame and the 10"x15" document is floating on a dark brown background. The signature of Jefferson is fairly light, and the signature of James Madison as Secretary of State is clear and bold. A great addition for any presidential collection 5000
- 1052 ANDREW JOHNSON; Cut sig. saying "Andrew Johnson of Tennessee" 450
- 1053 LYNDON B. JOHNSON; An Inauguration Day Cover dated January 20, 1965, signed boldly by LBJ. Framed along with this is a JFK "In Memoriam" cacheted envelope with the first day cancellations for the JFK 13c stamp and the LBJ 8c stamp. This cover is signed by Judge Sarah T. Hughes, the judge who swore in Johnson on Air Force One in 1963 after the assassination of the president 400
- 1054 LYNDON B. JOHNSON; His book, "The Vantage Point; Perspectives of the Presidency 1963-1969" signed inside in felt tip 275
- 1055 LYNDON B. JOHNSON; 5"x8" BW photo of Johnson mounted on a matte board. It is inscribed to Sgt. . . . with best wishes, and signed 500
- 1056 JOHN F. KENNEDY; Interesting group of letters concerning a portrait of JFK's grandfather which was given to him by Jim Walsh of Boston. The letter from JFK is on his Senate stationery and thanks Walsh for the portrait. The letter is signed "John", and there is a personal note in Kennedy's own hand saying "Many thanks. I have it hanging up here. Drop in when you are back in D.C." There is a followup letter from Administrative Assistant Ted Reardon to Jim Walsh on White House stationery dated August 28, 1961 stating that the portrait is hanging in the Salon of the Honey Fitz, the president's yacht. A copy of a letter from Walsh to Senator Ted Kennedy dated January 23, 1964 advises him of the existence of the portrait and asks that it be used in the Kennedy museum. An interesting piece of history from this important political family 1950
- 1057 JOHN F. KENNEDY; A matted and framed program signed by JFK and then Governor of Illinois Otto Kerner. The program states "The Democratic Party of Cook County Reception and Dinner Honoring John Fitzgerald Kennedy, President of the United States, McCormick Place, Chicago, Friday, April 28, 1961, and features a photo of JFK in the center 1800
- 1058 ABRAHAM LINCOLN; A handsomely framed document nominating and appointing - A. Coleman Woolfolk Assistant Quartermaster of Volunteers with the rank of Captain. It is dated February 26, 1862. The document, is boldly signed with a complete signature of Abraham Lincoln as well as the Secretary of War Edwin Stanton. It is newly framed and double matted in a 23" x 28" wood frame. The document is real clean and fresh, and the blue seal is sharp and intact. The creases are still there from where it had been folded for many years, but they will smooth out a bit after some time 7500
- 1059 WILLIAM MCKINLEY; Typewritten letter to Mr. A. Howard Hinkle, the president of the Commercial Gazette in Cincinnati. In the letter, McKinley thanks him for a special edition he put out, and invites him to "call upon me if you are at any time near this neighborhood." The letter is dated March 3, 1896, while McKinley was Governor of Ohio. This letter has some foxing, has a glue stain bleeding through from the reverse and has a rectangular piece cut out at the top, not affecting the text. Neatly signed W. McKinley at the bottom 350
- 1060 WILLIAM MCKINLEY; An ALS dated August 3, 1889 to J.M. Dalzell of Caldwell, OH. In it he agrees to write to a General Bussey in regards to his pension claims 650
- 1061 WILLIAM MCKINLEY; The program from a dinner in honor of McKinley at the Commercial Club of Chicago on October 10, 1899. The program is signed by McKinley as well as Lyman Gage, the Secretary of the Treasury, John Hay, the Secretary of State, and others 450
- 1062 JAMES MONROE; A 1.5" x 4" note reading "Let John Andrew be appointed with the salary proposed. James Monroe" 1750
- 1063 JAMES MONROE; Land grant to Daniel H. Warren for land in Illinois, dated January 14, 1819. Boldly signed by James Monroe 800
